A SPINE TINGLER

"Spider's Web," an Agatha Christie mystery-thriller, will be presented in the Gallaudet Auditorium again this weekend, Friday and Saturday, October 3 and 4.

Tickets for this all-student production are $3 for general admission and $2 for students. The box office will be open this week through Thursday from 2-5 p.m. and on Friday and Saturday from 2-8 p.m.

PROGRAM ON CONGRESS TO BE AIRED

Channel WGBH-TV, producers of "The Captioned ABC Evening News," will be showing a special program on the Congress of the World Federation of the Deaf in place of the regular captioned news on October 24.

The program can be seen locally over WETA-TV, Channel 26, at 11 p.m.

ED TECH TO HOLD WORKSHOP

Gallaudet faculty and staff will have an opportunity to become familiar with the procedures, facilities, resources and services for instructional materials development available to them through the Office of Educational Technology at a workshop to be held on October 25, from 9-3 p.m.

Participants will get hands on experience with television, transparencies and the computer for example. Products, equipment and services relevant to materials development will also be displayed.

If you would like to attend, please contact Don Torr in the Office of Educational Technology.

LAW CENTER CLINIC TO OPEN

The Legal Counseling Clinic of the Center for Law and the Deaf will open this Friday, October 3, and will be open Friday of each week from 2:30-6:30 p.m.

The clinic is staffed by law students working under the direction of attorneys. The new facilities are housed in the white trailer located between the Ole Jim and the Counseling Center.

Hearing impaired persons who wish to use the legal services of the clinic are asked to bring with them all papers and documents relevant to their cases.

COMPUTER COURSE OFFERED

An informal, short course in basic computer language will be offered to interested faculty and staff members. This non-credit course will involve about eight hours of actual class time and will probably be scheduled late in the afternoon or early in the evening.

To enroll, see or send a note to Jerald Jordan in room 110, Hall Memorial Building before Saturday, October 4.

CAUTION....DANGER ZONE

The campus community is reminded that many areas adjacent to and within construction sites are still very hazardous. Please keep clear of these areas.

It won't be long until all projects are completed and then everyone will be able to visit our new facilities under much safer conditions. Please be patient.

Some minor acts of vandalism in and around constructions sites have also been noted. If you see such activity, please report it immediately to campus Security.

CONGRESSMAN IN SIGN CLASS

Congressman Tom Harkin, representative from Iowa's Fifth District, has enrolled in Gallaudet's Evening Sign Language Program.

The Congressman's district includes Council Bluffs where the Iowa School for the Deaf is located.

HOMECOMING NEARS

Leaves are turning, nights are getting cooler and Homecoming Weekend is right around the corner, October 10 and 11.

Saturday will be highlighted by soccer and football games, a parade and dance.

Once again, the local GCAA chapter will hold a brunch on Saturday morning in the SUB from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Tickets are $3.50 per person, payable at the door. For reservations, see Polly Peikoff in the Office of Alumni and Public Relations.

TV SERIES ON GALLAUDET IN THE MAKING

A film crew from WBAL-TV, Channel 11, in Baltimore, was on the campus Tuesday and Wednesday of this week filming a five part series on the College. Depicting campus life on Kendall Green, the program is featuring Rita Corey.

PRESS RECEPTION HELD ON CAMPUS

Gallaudet hosted this year's annual press reception sponsored by the Washington Consortium of Universities. It was held in the Edward Miner Gallaudet Home.

Press representatives from the Washington Post, WMAL-TV, WRC-TV and the New Observer were among those meeting with the presidents and public relations staff people of the member schools.

ON THE GREEN is published by the Office of Alumni and Public Relations each week for the faculty and staff of Gallaudet College.
